Hawai'i State Public Library System

July 2005

Foundation and Friends Merge

Effective July 1, 2005, the Hawai'i Library Foundation and the Friends of the Library of Hawai'i, two non-profit organizations with similar missions to promote and benefit the Hawai'i State Public Library System, merged into one organization. The Foundation's signature fund raising event, Marriott Links to Literacy golf tournament, and the annual Public Librarian of the Year Award will continue under the auspices of the Friends. Caroline Spencer, recently retired Hawai'i State Library Director, and eight members of the Hawai'i Library Foundation Board, joined the reorganized Friends' Board of Directors.

"I see the whole thing blending together . . . this was a very good combination," said Byrde Cestare, FLH Executive Director. "We will be a much stronger organization, and the potential for growth is unlimited, which will benefit the libraries."

A New Leader for the Friends

By Paul H. Mark

Cestare

Roberta "Byrde" Cestare, a founding member of the Friends of Kailua Library and former Executive Director of the American Cancer Society's Windward Office, has been selected as the new Executive Director of the Friends of the Library of Hawai'i. Cestare (sounds like "Astaire," as in Fred Astaire), replaces Caroline Bond, who resigned after serving for 12 years.

Cestare brings 24 years of experience with volunteer based, nonprofit community organizations, both local and statewide. In addition, she brings a wealth of experience in grant writing, graphic design, computer skills, fundraising, retail and marketing to her new position.

"I'm really excited to be here . . . it's like coming full circle," said Cestare. "I look forward to working with the members and affiliates to make this an even stronger organization, and I'm thrilled that I'll have the opportunity to do many things with so many dedicated volunteers."

Global Books in Print Online

Were you wondering about . . . When will Patricia Cornwell's new Kay Scarpetta novel be released? When is the paperback edition of the latest John Grisham novel due out? Who won the Agatha Award last year? When is the Spanish-language version of the latest Harry Potter book due out?

Did you know that you can find one database that will answer questions such as these? Bowker's Global Books in Print Online (GBIP) www.global-booksinprint.com can answer all of these questions for you and more. With access to information on more than 10 million titles, their publishers and distributors, including print, ebooks, audio books, videos and Spanish-language titles, GBIP is the most comprehensive bibliographic database available.

You can access GBIP Online from the HSPLS Home Page www.librarieshawaii.org using your HSPLS library card number.

From GBIP's search page, go to the "Forthcoming Book Room" and click on 'Subject Spotlight' to find out what new books on baseball, or feng shui, or ADD, are scheduled for release in the next 6 months. Open a 'BIP Alert' account, enter your search criteria, and every 30 days Bowker will run a search on your terms and alert you of any new titles released or added to the GBIP database in the last 30 days!

Select 'Hot New Releases' to find the release dates for the most anticipated new publications, like that next Patricia Cornwell novel, and that Grisham paperback.

Click on the 'Award Winners' button to find that Agatha Award winner, and to find out the upcoming release date for editions of any other award-winning titles.

Select the 'Bestsellers' tab and consult 100 years worth of Publisher's Weekly Bestseller Lists, or search 16 more of the most prominent Lists, from the New York Times, the Washington Post, Amazon.com and others.

Use the 'Bios' button and search on an author's name; GBIP will list all in-print editions of that author's work.

Find contact information for more than 300,000 publishers, distributors, wholesalers and book agents world-wide.

No other bibliographic database offers the range of useful information that Bowker's Global Book in Print Online provides, for either the library professional or the casual library user.
